

Insect Ambassadors

Sharing Insect Education

Insect Ambassadors is a student-led outreach organization hosted by the University of Wisconsin Department of Entomology.

Our mission is to share the wonders and importance of insects to students and communities across Wisconsin.

We love bugs!

Insects are the most beautiful and amazing creatures on the planet. We love 'em and are excited to show you why you should, too!

Experienced presenters

We give over 75 presentations per year, from ages 3 to 103. We can tailor our talks to any audience and cover any insect-related topic!

Service Zone

We can travel up to an hour away for our presentations. We are also happy to host presentations on the UW campus, as well.
